

I rely on my radio station (KLOVE 91.9) for my mental health. I suffer from Major Depression and Anxiety. Other stations do nothing to settle my anxiety or give me a positive outlook. I believe the public should have a choice of what they want to listen to; by over-running my station, my choice would be eliminated. I believe the public needs to hear alternatives to the regular secular broadcasting that is available on most stations.